A WORD ABOUT TAX

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, or a Tax-Free Saving Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own or sell units of the Integra Canadian Value Growth Fund.

Sales charges

The Integra Canadian Value Growth Fund is "no load", meaning when you buy units of the Integra Canadian Value Growth Fund directly through us, you pay no fees when you purchase, switch or redeem. If you buy units through another registered broker or dealer, they affect you because they may charge you fees to purchase, switch or redeem units. These fees would be negotiated between you and the dealer.

Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They reduce the fund's returns. As of June 30, 2011, operating and trading expenses plus the maximum investment management fee (which is not reflected in the fund's returns) equalled 2.69%. This equates to $26.90 for every $1,000 invested.

	Annual rate (as a % of the fund's value)
Management expense ratio ("MER") – This is the total of the maximum management fee and the fund's operating expenses. The management fee is paid directly by the investor. The maximum management fee, before applicable taxes and expressed as % of assets under management, is 1.75%. Operating expenses paid by the fund are 0.51%.	2.26%
Trading expense ratio ("TER") – These are the fund's trading costs.	0.43%
Fund expenses (operating expenses and TER)	0.94%

Other fees

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	Up to 2% of the redemption price if you redeem within 90 days of purchase. This fee goes to the fund.

WHAT IF I CHANGE MY MIND?

Under securities law in some provinces and territories, you have the right to:

- withdraw from an agreement to buy mutual fund units within two business days after you receive a simplified prospectus, or
- cancel your purchase within 48 hours after you receive confirmation of your purchase

In some provinces and territories, you also have the rights to cancel a purchase, or in some jurisdictions, claim damages, if the simplified prospectus, annual information form or financial statements contain a misrepresentation. You must act within the time limit set by the securities law in your province or territory.

For more information, see the securities law of your province or territory or speak with a lawyer.
